

Hello,

This proposed bill presents a pivotal solution to alleviate the pressing housing crisis in Rhode Island by significantly easing rental constraints within urban and suburban areas statewide. It promises to ameliorate the housing shortage afflicting University of Rhode Island (URI) students, who currently grapple with the precariousness of available accommodations. The inadequacy of existing housing at URI not only compromises students' academic pursuits but also exerts strain on the housing landscape of Narragansett. Failure to enact this bill would compel students to contend with exorbitant rents or endure impractical commutes from distant locales. Thus, the imperative of passing this bill cannot be overstated, as it directly addresses the urgent housing needs of Rhode Island's populace, particularly its student demographic.

Best,
Audrey Paquet
