APPOINTMENT BY THE RHODE ISLAND LIFE SCIENCE HUB

The Honorable President presents the following communication from the Rhode Island Science Hub, transmitting the following appointment and requesting the advice and consent of the Senate thereto:

December 6, 2024

Honorable Dominick J. Ruggerio, President
Rhode Island State Senate
Rhode Island State House
82 Smith Street
Room 318
Providence, RI, 02903

Dear President Ruggerio,

On behalf of the board of the Rhode Island Life Science Hub, I would like to nominate Mark Turco, MD as the inaugural President and Chief Executive Officer of the Rhode Island Life Science Hub for confirmation.

As you know, the Rhode Island Life Science Hub was established in 2023 by Governor Dan McKee and the General Assembly and funded with a $45 million investment to facilitate the growth of the state's life sciences sector. Since its establishment, the Governor has appointed a Board that includes leaders in the sector representing industry, higher education and health care.

The position of President and Chief Executive Officer is cited in the enabling legislation to lead our quasi-public agency. We conducted a thorough national search led by Korn Ferry and vetted several impressive candidates. We believe Dr. Turco has the experience, presence and commitment to take us forward. Dr. Turco's resume is attached. We have negotiated a three-year contract with him to begin on January 15, 2025, subject to advice and consent of the Senate.

The Life Science Hub has quickly achieved several significant milestones during its first year, including convening over 500 industry leaders this spring at an inaugural summit and launching a $250,000 Small Grant Fund that has already awarded over $227,000. We have also approved $20 million in special grant funding to drive innovation, workforce development and early-stage business growth. Most recently, the Life Science Hub, with the assistance of Brown University and the I-195 Commission, invested $10 million to lead the development of Rhode Island's first life science incubator. Set to open in December 2025, the incubator will address critical lab space needs for Rhode Island and drive advancements in health care.

Thank you very much for your strong commitment and support of the Rhode Life Science Hub and this important appointment. Please let me know if you have any questions or need additional information.

Sincerely

Good evening Honorable President and all Honorable members of the Rhode Island Senate, eminent guests, ladies & gentlemen. Thank you for the invitation. May we pray together. Heavenly Father, upon whom Government rest and who ordains government. We thank you for the privilege granted these men and women to be members of this August body; for they represent the highest aspiration of our Rhode Island family. In their passion to serve, we find true patriotism, In their election, we find hope and optimism. O Lord, We are grateful for the freedoms we enjoy in this great state. As the Psalmist declared, "Blessed is the nation whose God is the Lord". Lord, we recognize that our state was founded on principles rooted in faith, liberty, and justice. We come before You today, humbly asking for Your guidance and wisdom as we begin this session of the Rhode Island Senate. Grant this body the strength to act with courage and integrity. May our hearts be guided by Your truth, and may our minds be filled with understanding. Even when we defer philosophically, sophistically may we always remember that we are one Rhode Island family. Even when we defer politically, may we always remember that we are, the word of Martin Luther King, Jr, tied together in the single garment of destiny. Even when distracted by our own personal enterprise, May we commit ourselves to the highest ideas of this lively experiment. O lord of mercies, bless the leadership and every member of this Rhode Island Senate, bless their families and their staff, everyone here gathered and bless people of this great state. May your glory shine upon our beautiful state of Rhode Island from the shorelines of Newport to the skylines of Providence, upon every farmland and every factory across this state. May Your grace be upon this Senate. May this chamber be filled with warmth of love and hope for a glorious future. When all is sad and done, may we give you the glory. The Lord Bless, You & keep you, the Lord makes his face to shine upon you, the Lord lifts his countenance upon you and give you peace, you and your children and your children, in matchless name of Christ our Lord we pray. Amen.

O Guardian of life and liberty, May this holy assembly vivfy our collective strivings for the common good. Grant its members wisdom and forbearance to establish and maintain our shared purpose through cooperation and understanding. Let their governance bring justice and healing across difference throughout our state. Let freedom ring from Cumberland to Block Island. Let the harmony of liberty resound from the Rhode Island sound to Sandy Point. Source of all Life, Guide our leaders with righteousness, strengthen but do not harden their hearts. Let them use their influence and authority to speak truth and act for justice. May all who dwell in this state share in its bounty, enjoy its freedoms and be protected by its laws. May we be strong and have courage to be bold in our action and deep in our compassion, that we might respect and uplift the many ways that we may serve You. Establish and make enduring the labor our hearts this legislative session, May this state be sound in body and spirit, and let justice well up like waters, righteousness like a mighty stream. Amen.

AppendixSENATE PRESIDENT'S REMARKS*Tuesday, January 7, 2025*Dominick J. Ruggerio

Senate President

Thank you, Melissa and Bobby, for your very kind words.

And thank you to all of my colleagues ... I have such deep respect and admiration for each of you.

It is truly humbling to be re-elected President of this extraordinary Chamber.

To my returning colleagues: welcome back.

And please join me in welcoming six new members to our Chamber today:

- Peter Appollonio
- Andrew DiMitre
- Todd Patalano
- Brian Thompson
- Lori Urso
- Lammis Vargas

Congratulations to you ... and to every member of the Chamber. I look forward to working in collaboration with all of you to address the serious challenges facing our state.

We have made tremendous progress on many pressing issues ... from health care to housing ... and from the economy to education.

But there is still much work to be done in these ... and many other ... areas.

As we work to build upon the progress we have made, we are fortunate to have a talented and diverse membership, each of whom brings different expertise and perspectives.

One area that requires more focused attention is public policy around rapidly advancing technologies.

To bring needed diligence to this area, I will be asking Senator Victoria Gu to lend her expertise and chair a new committee on Artificial Intelligence and Emerging Technologies.

I am also privileged and excited to welcome Valarie Lawson as the new Majority Leader, and David Tikoian as our new Majority Whip.

Val and David are both enormously capable and dedicated leaders.

I look forward to working with them – and with all of you – towards the betterment of our state.

In the spirit of service and collaboration, let us find common purpose in our shared commitment to our communities ... our shared love for our state ... and our shared hope for a better future.

Thank you all.
